Huichol - Wixarika Native American Church Ceremonies

Randy & Concha

Ceremonies Huichol/Wixarika en Native American Church, temazcalli & Danza Aztec

It is a great honor to bring back some amazing dear Elders, friends, keepers of the medicine way to Baba Jaga

Also they will meet in these days some dear friends, they once joined each others circle

And it feels rich to see them join together again and share their sacred medicine way with us
....

SoulVoice workshop

conducted by Marineta Koeman (soulvoice practitioner & teacher)

sweatlodge conducted by Mieke van der Meer

The human voice is the most powerful tool available for the healing of humanity and a shift in consciousness.

By unleashing and experiencing the untapped power of your innate voice you will come to liberate your whole being and limitless creativity.

You will awaken your authentic self.

The human voice is the most powerful tool available for the healing of humanity and a shift in consciousness. Every word we speak carries the tone of our sound as an instrument of communication and healing. Understanding how to tune and use this instrument effectively shifts not only our own consciousness, but also that of those who receive (hear) our sounds. Opening and clearing the throat chakra allows a freedom of self-expression that supports communication and healing on every level.

The voice is the mirror of our inner universe. It is as unique as our fingerprints, and reflects and acts as a map to our body, personal and collective stories, and to our history. For each experience we have gone through in life, the body keeps memories which are like records of sound frequencies.

The human voice is superior to all other instruments because it has soul, heart and consciousness and because it reflects the spiritual resonance of the person making the sound. I believe our voice has a soul print that we since birth have been trying to come in contact with – a code that signifies or story, our 'make-up' and our ancestral roots.

The gateway to develop and master our intuition goes through our emotional body. The journey is the willingness to allow the intentional sounding to travel through the many layers of the human energy system, that any unwanted of foreign imprints may be deleted and dissolved. In this way the body will not only come back to restore balance, but also come to remember your unlimited creativity & playful inner child, and to manifest the authentic YOU!

Because all life is vibration and we hold and inherited wisdom of remembrance and knowingness in our DNA structure, we can unravel our DND cellular coding through sound frequencies.

Humans are resonant beings. Our cells are vibrational energy. Through various soul voice techniques you learn step by step to unravel deeper and deeper layers of the cellular memory. You also learn to access the primordial energy through sound frequencies, which will bring you in contact with your original sound language, a place where everything begins and exists. It is from that place you become in resonant contact with the very core of your being & your vibrational blueprint.

The soul voice work is a wake-up call to greater meaning of life.

There is a cry, a call deep within our hearts that wants to be heard. We long to liberate of voice potential and rediscover the grandeur of who we truly are...a force of the highest vibration and creation.

The soul voice method works with each student's personal sound-scape and sound healing abilities, which becomes more and more crystallized, the more the trainee/practitioner has worked and cleared oneself to the very deepest soul level.

As we learn to get out of the way, there is nothing we cannot attain.

This is the soul voice journey!
